“The still point of the turning world...”

I suppose there are countless different ways that one could speak of the mystery of the Incarnation – of God Himself entering into this world of time and space and matter to be present to humanity in human form. In Jesus, God shows Himself to us as one of us.

There is often a tendency nowadays to aim at a ‘gritty realism’ so that the circumstances around the Birth seem relevant to the world we live in. Mary as unmarried teenage mother; the stable as a place where real animals snort and feed and leak and where one must, literally, tread carefully; the threat of murderous political power in Herod; the family on the run to Egypt as refugees, and so on. All of these angles are valid, of course, and I sometimes speak of them myself.

It is notable that in Europe’s past, where life was very much ‘grittier’ and harder than it is for most of us now, there was generally more interest in the mystery and miracle of the business, rather than what was ‘ordinary’ about it.

For example, from the early days of Christianity comes a work called the ‘Protoevangelium of James’. It probably dates from the 2nd Century AD; it was regarded as ‘apocryphal’, not scriptural – the Church knew it dated from after the time of the Apostles.

Imaginatively, it tells how Joseph leaves Mary in the stable (a cave) and goes in search of a midwife. This narrative is put in his mouth:

“Now I, Joseph, was walking along and I looked up at the vault of the sky and saw it standing still, and then the clouds and saw them paused in amazement, and at the birds of the sky suspended in mid-air.....I saw sheep being driven along and yet the sheep stood still; the shepherd was lifting his hand to strike them, and yet his hand remained raised... Then all of a sudden everything and everybody went on with what they had been doing.”

Joseph returns to find the stable in a blaze of light and the new born child already at Mary’s breast.

This account portrays the moment of the birth as one of profound mystery – of the overlap of heaven and earth, time and eternity. So extraordinary is the moment of the birth that time and causality themselves are arrested.

One is reminded of the words of the great C20th Anglican poet, T.S. Eliot who spoke of the “point of intersection of the timeless with time”.

Jesus is, in his birth, as ‘James’ hinted, “the still point of the turning world” – to quote again the words of T.S. Eliot.

We spend most of our days overwhelmed by the ordinary – perhaps Christmas is a chance to touch again something of the mystery of the Jesus whom Scripture calls, “God with us”.

A Happy and Blessed Christmas to you all,
Richard Benson,
Vicar.

An Update from Children’s Ministry in Schools

The new term starting in September began with a busy calendar for ministry work with the children. It was great to see some new faces join the infant classes around the White Peak Group schools and welcome them in to the school community. At several of the schools, the new children have already participated and got involved with the planning and delivery of collective worship with their classmates; sharing with one another the message of new beginnings, changes and working together.

October saw a busy month starting with Harvest services around the White Peak Group and the children explored themes of giving and thankfulness within their collective worship; this extended to Sunday services with children attending church and sharing the Harvest message with the congregation, giving thanks for the food we eat and share and remembering those without and offering prayers for them. It was great to see the children taking an active role in the Sunday services and many thanks goes to those who organised and contributed generously. Your support is much appreciated!

During times of collective worship over the previous months, various themed assemblies have taken place from a focus on working together to what the children think heaven is like. We take the time to sing, create and worship together and I particularly enjoy coming into the schools and being greeted with a warm welcome, the enthusiasm with which the children engage in all the activities and their willingness to contribute and put forward their ideas. When the children all join in with a new song or ask when it's their turn to help plan assemblies it's really encouraging to hear!

As preparation for Advent sets in I look forward to the month ahead which I'm sure will be filled with excitement and seasonal cheer as the children get ready for Christmas celebrations.

BIGGHARTS - the children of Biggin and Hartington C of E Primary Schools have been very busy participating in many of the cluster competitions and festivals over the past few months. On November 22nd a Tag Rugby competition for Years 3,4,5 &6 a report on this will be in the next edition.

The History and some memories of your News and Views

Some while ago Hartington History Group decided to try and find as many copies and save them electronically. We were very lucky that Margaret Partridge had saved those which her mother had kept. Leon is busy saving these electronically and will soon have a link which we can access through the village website. We have managed to trace the start of this initiative- 1978 by Rev Gibson. The first editorial team for Hartington & Biggin News and Views (Earl Sterndale came on board later) was- from Hartington Jean Stone and Ann Rogers and from Biggin, Ivy Watson and Jesse Prince. Once we have recorded the copies we have we will clarify those which are missing and hope that they may be found. I hope this will be the first of several articles tracing the history of the well loved magazine. If you have any copies or memories/ information that you would like to share- please contact Liz Broomhead on 01298687263 or email liz@broomhead.net

There are 2 people we would like to acknowledge at this time who have given a great deal of time and care to News and Views. After 37 years Jean and Gordon Stone have retired from the folding and stapling and distributing to the team of volunteer deliverers' in Hartington. Thank you for your commitment over all this time. Secondly, many of you will remember Rev' Gibbling and his family who followed in the footsteps of Rev' Gibson in ensuring that the magazine went from strength to strength. Sadly he and his wife passed away this summer, in conversation with their daughter I said we would acknowledge his support in this newsletter.

Cheese Factory Development

We regret that on 13th October Planning Inspector Clive Sproule overturned the decision of the Peak Park Planning Committee and granted Cathelco permission to build 26 houses on the site.

This despite on the final day, Cathelco offering to omit the large house from the development. The Inspector however, in contrast to every other party represented, found this house essential in order to prevent 'an uncharacteristically abrupt linear edge to the village.'

He appeared to have made his mind up from the beginning and was challenged on this by one of the 50 residents who attended daily. His Decision notice appeared personal and subjective, driven by a determination to see the factory removed and replaced by houses regardless of layout or housing type.

Andrew Wood, planning officer for Friends of the Peak District, who attended the Hearing, summed it up to the press - "The site is out on a limb from the village, includes a conspicuously large house, twenty-one other private homes and a measly four affordable homes. The community in Hartington have spent years trying to work with the site owner to secure a good scheme with more affordable homes and some workshops, so that the re-use of the site could really contribute to the life of the village. This is the wrong scheme, and it's deeply disappointing that it has been approved on appeal."

Following the Decision, the Parish Council, the CPRE (Campaign for Protection of Rural England) and the CNP (Campaign for Protection of National Parks), felt the Inspector's Decision might be worthy of legal challenge in that the scheme failed to provide sufficient enhancement as required by a major development in a National Park.

However a review by the courts can only succeed on a legal flaw in the Decision and unfortunately a review by a Barrister provided by the CNP, could not find the necessary legal loophole. The Barrister noted that despite a very substantive case against the Application by ourselves and the Planning Committee, the Inspector had wide discretion which is inevitably supported by the Courts. He also noted that the report by the Peak Park Planning Officer recommending the scheme to the Planning Committee, was particularly unhelpful.

So the Decision must therefore stand. Having initially been faced with over 60 houses, then 39 and the infilling of the green field to the north of Stonewell Lane, we now have an estate of 26. Unfortunately too many large and expensive houses, just 4 affordable homes for rent and no workspace. It is deeply disappointing but if and when the estate is completed and if they become full time homes, we will of course welcome any new residents to our village.

NEIGHBOURHOOD PLAN

Over 150 completed questionnaires were returned with all but a handful from residents, an astonishing response from the village. Of course with the Inspector's Decision, one of the key Questions about the use of the Cheese factory becomes irrelevant.

Especially disappointing because of those who answered Q10 regarding the factory site, 84% wanted the development to be restricted to the footprint of factory buildings or less. Of course the scheme builds well beyond this footprint.

Likewise when responding to the need for new housing, 95% of those responding thought we needed a few more or that current housing numbers were about right. Hardly an endorsement for the large scale development agreed by the Inspector.

Whilst we cannot now use these important statistics, there are many other important messages in the Questionnaire, including preservation of green spaces, parking, bus services and a multitude of individual comments. Now with the Public Inquiry over, the Neighbourhood Plan Committee can concentrate on producing a full assessment and plan a timetable for our draft Plan. Details of this will be published in the next edition of News and Views.

Janet Oliver and her family would like to thank all our friends for their cards, kind words and thoughts during our sad time. Your donations are gratefully accepted, £850.00 being divided between 'Wetton and Alstonfield' 1st Responders and Derby Stroke Unit at the Royal Hospital Derby. With our heartfelt thanks Janet, Martin & Judith.

Village Planters- I am sure you will all agree that this year the Parish Council Village Planters have looked beautiful. This is thanks to, primarily Janet Bray, who has spent many hours raising the plants from seedlings, planting and caring for them. She has been supported throughout the year by the children of Hartington C of E Primary School; during the spring they cared for the young plants in a portable greenhouse, in May they planted them in the planters. In late October they helped Mrs Bray clear the planters and ensure we have some lovely primula and pansies in place. On behalf of the Parish Council, Community and visitors thank you to all involved.

Village Hall The Village Hall committee would like to thank the following- Janet Bray for the planting of the hanging baskets and pots at the entrance, Lesley and Fred Birch for the watering, Mick Parsons for the Chimney pots and mowing of the grass. To Kath Williamson, Fiona Parsons and Liz Broomhead thank you for continuing to volunteer in cleaning the village hall. If anyone is able to help with this on an occasional basis we would be very grateful- please contact Liz 687263 or Kath 84917 The Dance Club has raised funds to purchase a bench which will have a plaque on in memory of Jack Webster, who led the monthly Saturday Dances for many, many years. It is currently situated in the village hall and next summer will be placed outside. The Hartington Monthly Dance with live music will continue in 2017- the dates are included here- everyone welcome. If you would like to use the village hall for a special event, birthday, anniversaries, parties etc please contact Garry Booth on 687329 or email garry.booth@gmx.com. Macmillan Coffee Morning-30th September – Hartington C of E Primary School. What a wonderful day this was; the Children and Staff paid to attend in their pyjamas; they had made some scrumptious cakes to sell as well as bringing toys to trade. Mrs Kerr with Mrs Morson had brought many items and “bric-a-brac” to sell; parents and members of the community had brought the most amazing cakes which soon disappeared. The raffle prizes were of the highest quality; the weather beautiful, with many visitors coming to join us. A big thank you to our friends from Biggin who also supported the event. It is no wonder we raised the most amazing total of £565 for an excellent cause. A big thank you to everyone who helped and attended- here's to next year.

Mr Mollatt visits the Cenotaph - November 13th – Eddie was taken by his daughter Billie to London on 12th November to stay at the Grosvenor Hotel overnight. The next morning he went to the Cenotaph for the march past. What a wonderful experience and well deserved.

Remembrance Concert 11.11.16- Hartington Village Hall – What a night! - Memorable for so many reasons. A sell out audience- not a seat left- were treated to a performance of such quality from Warslow Silver Band and the Choir from Buxton under the leadership of Janet Galloway Booth. Steve Sutton, conductor of the band was in outstanding form and treated everyone to many humorous tales alongside some exquisite music. Sarah Lacey, the organizer of the event, was thrilled with the raffle prizes from the community as well as two outstanding donations; a food hamper and 6 bottles of wonderful wine- the latter donated by the Lord Lieutenant of Derby, whose Deputy Nick Hodgson, attended the evening with his wife and friends. These two donations, worth well in excess of £70 each, were to be determined by a sealed bid. The outcome of this was to see Rebecca Simcox win both items with a fantastic bid of £140 for each item. Rebecca, who is from Leek, is the owner of the “T Junction Cafe” at Hulme End. The funds raised for the Royal British Legion Battleback Centre, Lilleshall realised an amazing amount which well exceeds £1000, and is still being added to. A big thank you to everyone who helped in anyway.

Remembrance Service- a beautiful morning saw an excellent representation to join the Deputy Lord Lieutenant of Derby for the service in church followed by the address at the War Memorial and two minutes silence which was concluded by Geoff Goodwin on the cornet. It was lovely to have visitors with us, some on horseback, others on bikes. Tributes of poppy wreaths were laid including one by Hartington poppy Queen, Maddie Wager. Thank you, as always, to Harold and Jen for the lovely refreshments after the service.

Hartington C of E Primary School – Another busy term- on Wednesday 9th November, Key stage 2 went to Biggin School for a follow up session to the Under Whittle Archaeological Project. They were doing work in preparation for the development of a comic magazine. Friday 11th November, following a special collective worship acknowledging the two minute silence for Remembrance Day, we had our Community Lunch. The Anti-Bullying Week 14th -18th November was very successful as was our input into Children in Need. We are delighted to join with other local schools in a 5 hour project- Singing2gether with Music Partnership, some of the songs will be used in the nativity which will be on 14th December- 6pm in St Giles Church followed by a Pie & pea supper in School. The Community Christmas Lunch will be on December 16th and we have a whole school treat when we visit the Pantomime- “Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs” on December 19th Harvest Festival, Boxes and Supper- October 2nd. The children of Hartington C of E Primary School were delighted to join Mrs Bel Kerr in Church on Thursday 29th September to help her, and Mrs Celia Critchlow, pack the 34 boxes ready for the service and supper on Sunday. The church was full of families and friends; the children provided a beautiful service which had been developed with the staff and Sophie Etchells the Ministry Assistant. The children and parents helped to carry the boxes to the village hall where we all enjoyed a wonderful Pie and Pea supper. This year over 120 people attended. Raffle prizes were donated by the community and this, along with donations, covered all costs.

Christmas Tree Festival- The Christmas Tree Festival will be held in St Giles Church, Hartington. The theme this year is “The Queen” in recognition of her 90th birthday which she celebrated in 2016. There are 19 trees which will be decorated by various groups and businesses from the village; we have had some fantastic and original ideas for the decorations. The festival will be open on Saturday 10 December from 5.30 pm - 7.00 pm after the lighting up of the Christmas Tree on the village green. It will also be open on Sunday 11 December, 11.00 am – 4.00 pm. Mulled wine and mince pies, tea & coffee will be served. All proceeds raised will go to Hartington Community Group. Please come along and see the festive decorations in our lovely church.
