Difficult Times

As I write this, there is taking place at Canterbury a meeting of the Primates of the Worldwide Anglican Communion. These clerics are Archbishops in numerous countries whose churches look to the Archbishop of Canterbury for a certain sort of leadership. Our Archbishop does not rule our church like an Anglican Pope, but is looked to as a figurehead – rather as the Queen is in the Commonwealth.

I wrote a couple of years ago about the major ‘faultlines’ in the Anglican Church. In the Church of England itself there has been, over the last twenty years, a major division over the ordination of women to the priesthood. That resulted in significant numbers of traditionally minded clergy and lay people leaving the C. of E. Many went to the Roman Catholic Church – and more recently some whole congregations and sections thereof have joined the Roman Church as part of something called ‘The Ordinariate’ which Rome has set up specifically to receive Anglicans en masse.

This ‘faultline’ opened up between those who adhered to a traditional Christian understanding of God’s will for men and women and those on the other hand who thought that the Church ought to ‘move with the times’ and that justice demands that men and women’s roles should be interchangeable.

This division between liberals or modernists on the one hand and traditionalists on the other is reflected on a much larger scale in the worldwide Anglican Communion. Outside the relatively liberal or modernist West, many Anglican provinces feel that in Britain we are ‘selling out’ on principles of Christian morality – particularly on the issue of toleration of homosexuality. They argue that we are ditching the teaching of 2,000 years so that we can conform to the values of the increasingly secular world around us and seem ‘relevant’.

Many of the Anglican Churches which feel this very strongly boycotted the last regular Lambeth Conference. They held their own meeting as a group which goes by the acronym GAFCON.

As I write, none of the GAFCON Archbishops has refused to attend the current Primates’ Meeting – but it is feared that there will be walkouts before the end of it. The GATCON General Secretary has asserted, ‘Truth matters even more than institutional unity’.

These issues of what are called ‘gender and sexuality’ are very hot topics indeed and we may see a further serious fracturing of our worldwide communion over the next few years.

Richard Benson, Vicar.

Postscript: I heard on BBC radio this morning (15th January) that the meeting of Primates has suspended the Anglican Church in the USA from decision-making bodies for the next three years as it has already unilaterally approved homosexual marriages in America.

I can’t tell you where all this will lead. It is a case of ‘watch this space’, I’m afraid.

Biggharts- The last competition for 2015 was a Tag-Rugby festival which was very enjoyable and again performances were of the highest level. The years 3 and 4 were provided with some coaching and fun activities whilst the Years 5 & 6 children competed in the festival which they won. George Wigham was top scorer of the tries, Josh and Sam Wright played with great enthusiasm scoring tries. Will Kirk was excellent in defence. Ruby Debes, Ellie, Harriet Pearson and Jacob Blackwell were great at supporting the run of play. On January 13th Yrs 1&2 participated in a Gymnastic/Dance festival where they were taught a routine by the young leaders from QEGS and then performed it to music; they were, from Biggin- Jack Leslie, Ruby Currington, Edie Wager, Sophia Leslie, Archie Pearson, Jacob Wain, Eddy Adams, Jorge Lowndes, Ethan Wilton, Chloe Bunting, Daisy Hodgkinson, Brooke Harland, and from Hartington-Will & Winola Watkinson, Harry Wardle, Isaac Blackwell, Tom Debes, Evie Allen, Brenda, Niamh Mellor and Sophia Webberley.

Christmas Tree Festival- 11th, 12th 18th December- Hartington Village Hall- Despite dreadful weather, the third annual Christmas Tree festival got off to a great start with the “switch on” of the Parish Council Christmas Tree lights by the chair- David Annat. A hasty retreat, through the wind and rain, to the warmth and wonderful aroma in the village hall. Here there were 18 beautifully decorated trees amongst splendid wall decorations all on the theme of Christmas throughout the world. These were all greatly appreciated by everyone as they ate delicious mince pies and drank the lovely mulled wine. Children participated in a “Colour a Christmas Tree” competition, the raffle and tombola did a roaring trade and we were delighted to see the Peak District Bell Ringers who came from their ringing and service. Sunday saw a steady stream of visitors and members of the community.

The Carol Concert led by Margaret Partridge and Phil Goodwin was well attended on Friday evening; Father Christmas arrived to distribute gifts to the senior members of the community. The raffle was drawn; over 20 lovely prizes donated by the community were won. The winner of the Children’s competition was chosen by Santa- Katherine Webley. A lovely buffet, funded by Hartington Community Group and prepared by Sue Bruce, was enjoyed by all. The tombola continued to be highly popular, grateful thanks to everyone who donated prizes.

“Thank You’s” to all those who had taken a lead project for the event were announced and they each received one of the beautiful table decorations donated and created by Heidi Roger- Manager of the YHA- Hartington Hall. The magnificent total of £550 was raised for the village hall, through donations, raffle and tombola. Special thanks should be given to the following:-

Dairy Crest Appeal - Hearing Adjourned -The Hearing of the Appeal by Cathelco against the Refusal of their Application to build 26 houses on the Dairy Crest Site, has run for 3 full days but has now been adjourned until February 1st whilst the Inspector seeks clarification on a number of issues. Firstly he is not satisfied that proper tests have been conducted to determine the number and species of bats on the site. Secondly the Appellant at the last minute introduced a number of changes to the plans in an attempt to make them more acceptable, including a third revised design for the large house on Plot SP1. Added to the introduction of the Swale, the Parish Council believe with so many changes this should require a new Application.

In the three days of Hearing the Parish Council and the Peak Park Authority presented a very strong case against the Appeal succeeding. They were supported by several top class speeches from amongst the 40 or so residents who attended each day of the Hearing.

We are no nearer to knowing an outcome or indeed whether the Hearing will continue as a public meeting in the Village Hall on February 1st We can however be confident that we have done the best we can!

Parish Council

Defibrillator Training and Cabinet- As mentioned in the previous edition the Parish Council funded further Defibrillator Training for volunteers from the Community. A full list of those who attended is displayed around the village. The Defibrillator is currently situated in The Charles Cotton Hotel. The Parish Council has applied for a grant to purchase a cabinet be used to house the Defibrillator on an outside wall in the centre of the village ensuring it will be accessible 24hours. Liz Broomhead

Hartington C of E Primary School- Another busy term, where pupils learnt more about bullying and the impact that it may have on people's lives during Anti-Bullying Week in November. A quote from one of the pupils "I thought it was a good idea to talk about bullying so that bullies would realise what they were doing was wrong. Also the people that are getting bullied would have the courage to talk to an adult or trusted friend who could sort it out."

A week earlier, the children celebrated "Children In Need" on Friday 13th November by dressing as their favourite sports stars including footballers, dancers and horse riders. They each paid £1 to be donated to the cause. A big thank you to local residents for coming together and raising over £1,700 for school provisions during special Christmas events.

Pupils showcased their nativity play 'Straw and Order' on Thursday 10th December before the congregation, parents, carers and residents enjoyed a Pea and Pie Supper, organised by the PTFA. Thank you to everyone who donated prizes to the raffle and tombola prizes and supported the evening. A grandparent of one of the pupils said: "I can't believe for such a small school how busy the event was – this school really is the heart of the community." More than £1,243 was raised, in addition to £480 raised at the annual Christmas market on Wednesday 4th November.

The children have also created displays to coincide with the village's Christmas tree exhibition this year. They painted pictures of children wearing traditional outfits from countries including Spain, Iceland, Russia, North Korea, Germany, Ukraine and Scotland, alongside portraits of themselves. They spent time researching different areas of the world and the beliefs and customs of people who lived there. They were inspired to paint their own pictures illustrating items like saris in India; fur and animal skins in the Polar Regions and skirts and jewellery in Africa.

Head Teacher, Tracy Blackwell said: "This activity has been a real eye-opener for children and they have learnt so much about the different cultures and the traditions of Christmas all over the world." We have enjoyed hosting the community lunches again and look forward to the next ones on January 29th, February 26th and March 18th

BIGGIN NEWS

St Thomas Church- back in November we held the harvest festival which was followed by the Harvest supper in the Village hall where over £4000 was raised for Church Funds. Many thanks to Joan and Harold Bonsall and Doris Webster for their separate donations and to Mick Riley, Auctioneer, Jackie Wilton and Janice Riley for their help with the auction of produce

St Thomas Church- the church was beautifully decorated as usual for the Carol Service on December 13th. The school children took part and the afternoon took part and the afternoon concluded with the usual mulled wine and mince pies. Christmas Celebrations continued with the Christmas Day Communion, when we joined by our usual friends from Biggin Hall-
David Brindley

Celebration Meal- On December 9th the Senior Citizens enjoyed their Celebration Meal at the Village Hall. This was followed by musical entertainment. The Village Hall Committee must be thanked for all their hard work in organising this again. J Brindley

Thank you- It seems an opportune time to also give thanks to another willing volunteer, Mick Riley. Mick dutifully winds the church clock each Sunday and puts out all the church waste bins. This is always done with good grace and his usual sense of humour. D Brindley

Charles and Kath Harrison- In mid December we said "Cheerio" to Charles and Kath Harrison. Although Charles had retired from his profession as Funeral Director he still played an active part in Church matters and he will be missed. We wish them good luck in their new adventure. Biggin PCC

Biggin WI- In mid December 15 Members were present to enjoy our Christmas Party at Willersley castle Hotel. Everything was really lovely from the warm, friendly welcome, the lovely meal, the comfortable surroundings and plenty of space for "Secret Santa" to visit. It made a wonderful start to our Christmas celebrations. J. Brindley

News From Biggin C.E. Primary School -As always, the end of the Autumn Term, with all the excitement of Christmas, was a busy time in school. The Carol Service in Church was well attended. The children sang "Away in a Manger" and another song from the forthcoming play. Two of the Bible readings were also read by school children.

The School Christmas Concert, held in a packed Village Hall on Tuesday, 16th December, was The Snow Child. This is a traditional tale from Russia, which emphasises the cycle of the seasons and the annual celebration of Christmas. The staff were really proud of the children's performance. Each one had a spoken part and joined in the singing. In addition, there were dances, some choreographed by the older children, and musical accompaniments on percussion instruments and recorders. The concert also began with performances by the violin group and music club, led by Claire Kilner, and a guitar solo. The evening ended with refreshments, a raffle and other fund-raising activities. As always, the children were well supported by their families and it was an enjoyable community event. It has been my pleasure this year to re-new and make links with two schools in Europe. About six years ago, we started to share emails, then projects with a school in Slovakia. I thought the connection had been lost when Lucia in Bratislava left her school to bring up her two small children. I was delighted when she contacted me again during the summer as she was returning to teaching. We have never met, but I feel we have a good working relationship.

We have also been able to work with a school in Soisy-sur-Seine, the town twinned with Ashbourne. This has given our children a real opportunity to practise their French. Hopefully, we will meet some of these children in May. Both school links, whether by letter or email, provide them with insight into the lives of children with whom they have much in common but also interesting differences.

The Waterloo Inn (Biggin) Charity Committee

We are bringing everyone up to date with what is happening with our committee. We have decided to bring it to a close, and here is a brief report of how we started and what we have achieved.

It all began when Ann and John, the landlords at the Waterloo, suggested that we could do a charity fun day, and flyers went round the village to see who would be interested in joining in or helping out. At one point we had 11 members which was great.

The Fun Day went really well, the money raised from that event went to the NSPCC and Air Ambulance, Patrick McLaughlin arrived to open it and it was worth all the hard work. Ann and John left the Waterloo and Bridget and Gary moved in. They were happy to let the charity continue and Bridget joined the committee, and the Waterloo continued as our "headquarters" and retained its name.

We moved on to auctions which proved to be a better way to raise more money, and gave the village a lovely night in the village hall with food and entertainment included in ticket prices. After that first year we made a conscious decision to leave all the money raised in the village, and so many organisations benefited from that. We organised treasure hunts, car wash days, cake stalls etc.

Just a quick mention to all those who you gave to: NSPCC, Air Ambulance, The Biggin Play Area, Pre School, Biggin Football Team, The Village Hall for extensive loft alterations, First Responders and Alstonefield First Responders, The Doctor's Patients Group twice, Tony Peggs John O'Groats and back motor bike ride for children with cancer, Rob McCurrachs John O'Groats bike ride for the children's' kidney charity, the Defibrillator (which was probably the largest recipient) and of course the Children's Christmas Parties and Pensioners Party contributions.

We also joined with the Parish Council to help with the Jubilee celebrations, We had the Santa-mobile going round Hartington and Biggin for a couple of years, and that was amazing and one year we were invited to Monyash, everyone in Biggin seemed to come out to see us, young and old.

It has all been great fun and we look back proudly on the achievements. However, we are now down to far fewer members, and there are only so many times you can go back to the same people and companies who donated our lots for the auctions. Also the other organisations are doing the same things and raising their own funds so we can happily call it a day.

We would like to say thank you for all the support you have given us, have given to your own village, the account has now been closed. Each committee member has ended up with a small amount of money and we are donating these to charities of our own choice, the majority of which are in the village.

Our names are at the end of this article and please feel that you can come and ask us anything about where the remainder has been donated. We make no apologies for the length of the article as it has to cover every aspect of what has been done. If you need more detailed information about amounts of money then you will have to contact Colette who is Treasurer.

THANK YOU and a Very Happy New Year to everyone. (Jennie Gill on behalf of all the committee).

Carol Grace (Chairperson), Jennie Gill (Secretary), Collette Martin (Treasurer), George Gill, Avril Bond Mark Insull , Bridget Dicken and Charlii Upton.
